

GREAT THOUGHTS

"He who desires to see the living God face to face should not seek Him in the empty firmament of his mind, but in human love."—Dostoevsky

"Jesus Christ teaches men there is something in them above this life with its hurries, its pleasures, its fears. He who understands Christ's teaching feels like a bird that did not know it has wings and now suddenly realizes that it can fly, can be free and no longer needs to fear."—Tolstoy

Turn back O Man, forswear thy foolish ways,
Old now is Earth, and none may count her days,
Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame,
Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim.

Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise,
Age after age their tragic empires rise,
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep,
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep.

Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done.
Now, even now, once more from earth to sky
Peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry
"Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!"

CONFIRMATION NEXT SUNDAY

Bishop Tsu will be with us at 11 o'clock next Sunday for Confirmation. He will also preach the sermon. Let us have a warm welcome for the Bishop.

COFFEE FRIENDLY TIME NEXT SUNDAY

With the coming of Bishop Tsu next Sunday we have a grand opportunity to make our Coffee Time a very special one. We can welcome those confirmed, greet the Bishop personally, and bring some new people to enjoy what is for all of us a heart-warming experience.

CHOIR CONCERT NEXT SUNDAY

Add to the above paragraph an additional note—the Choir Concert for the last Sunday in January occurs on this day, too, at 10:30 o'clock.

WE DID OUR BEST

Material for the printer was prepared by the Rector far in advance of the holidays so Christmas and New Year's would not delay publication. In spite of this, delays occurred preventing us from sending you the January 5 and January 12 issues through the mail. The Rector is considering a change in our bulletin after a three-month trial of the present arrangement.

CONVALESCING

Mrs. Clara Vietri was blown off her feet, on Sunday, December 29th, while coming to church. She broke her hip and is recuperating at the Methodist Hospital on Broad Street. Happily Mrs. Maude Warren-Webb has been released to go home after many weeks in hospital and nursing home. Miss Hedwig Wiley was taken to Jefferson Hospital and released to go to St. Ignatius Nursing Home, 628 N. 43rd Street. Mr. Warner Miller spent a few days at the Methodist Hospital but is now at home. Please notify the Rector promptly when someone is ill, especially if they have gone to a hospital.

THE WEEK

Tuesday —12:10—Healing Service

Wednesday—10:00-4:00—The Red Cross

12:10—The Holy Eucharist

St. John's Settlement House was given a generous amount of clothing for their needy families, and to our knowledge, about $125.00 in additional, as part of our Christmas program this year.

The Sacred Concert by the Choir will be given next Sunday at 10:30 A.M., instead of today, in order for Bishop Tsu to have more time for his illustrated talk this morning on the Lambeth Conference.

After a three months' trial with the bulletin you have been receiving, we change our format to a printed Order of Service for use only in the church, and restore the monthly bulletin we have enjoyed for so many years. Notices for the weekly service sheet should be in our hands a week in advance.

We welcome to our church today the Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu who will administer the Rite of Confirmation to Mr. Edward W. Henry, Mrs. Ursula G. Henry, Joseph Louis Schneider and William Allen Schneider.

Altar Flowers—January 26—In memory of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Strang and in memory of Mrs. Margaret Gallagher.

Altar Guild—Mrs. Mary Atkinson and Miss Margaret Nelson are on Altar Duty this Sunday.

A SUGGESTED BOOK FOR LENTEN READING

In 1955, Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, published a book by Dr. Paul Tillich, a world famous theologian, born in Prussia in 1886. He was an advocate of spiritual healing. This book was called "The New Being" and has a chapter entitled "On Healing." The following is a quotation from that chapter:

"How do we paint Jesus the Christ? The stories in the Gospel of Matthew contribute to the answer; they add a color, an expression, a trait of great intensity, they paint Him as the healer. It is astonishing that this color, this vivid expression of His nature, this powerful trait of His character, has been more and more lost in our time. The grayish colors of a moral teacher, the tense expression of a social reformer, the soft traits of a suffering servant have prevailed, at least amongst our painters and theologians and life-of-Jesus novelists; perhaps not so much in the hearts of the people who need somebody to heal them."

Thought for the Week

What do You come to church for? The heart of coming to church is the worship of Almighty God. Our love for Him draws us to His Church, where in prayer and singing we worship Him. Is this your reason? It should be. Anything less is missing the mark. And one definition of sin—a good one—is "missing the mark."

Thought for the Week

Self-examination is a continuous necessity, but Lent is especially suited for it. The search-light of God's Holy Spirit reveals the truth about us, if we will let that Light shine where it is needed. "Search me and try me, O God, and see if there be any wicked way in me."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Who is the "indispensable man"? People hold all kinds of positions but I have never found anyone to be "indispensable," including myself. There is only one "Indispensable Man" and He is Jesus Christ. Visit the "Ecce Homo" painting at Wanamaker's this Lenten Season. (The title is translated "Behold the Man.") Do that, love Him, and serve Him. He is indispensable and indestructible.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Forgive us, our Father, for our enthusiasms for the illegal and the impossible things . . .

jet speeds on the crowded highways . . .

private arithmetic to use on tax forms . . .

and hope that pies and cakes do not add inches.

So root us in the facts of life and discipline us to face the awful truths we would hide from. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

AN INDIAN PRAYER

O' GREAT SPIRIT,

Whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, hear me! I am small and weak, I need your strength and wisdom.

LET ME WALK IN BEAUTY, and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset.

MAKE MY HANDS respect the things you have made and my ears sharp to hear your voice.

MAKE ME WISE so that I may understand the things you have taught my people.

LET ME LEARN the lessons you have hidden in every leaf and rock.

I SEEK STRENGTH, not to be greater than my brother, but to fight my greatest enemy—myself.

MAKE ME ALWAYS READY to come to you with clean hands and straight eyes.

SO WHEN LIFE FADES, as the fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"As Ascension Day approaches the Church reflects on the return of Christ to the Spiritual Nature He had before His birth into our world. This is not an 'up' or 'down' exercise in logic. Rather is it a recognition of the richness of God's creative nature, far beyond our ability to grasp, whereby quality of life becomes more important than length of days, and the Power of An Endless Life, shatters all our limited thinking."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Does God ever shock us? I think He does. The Holy Spirit is the Dynamite as well as the Dynamic in our Faith. Electricity is a shock-producer when handled carelessly. God is infinitely more powerful than electricity. Shocking us may be necessary at times, especially when our souls are in danger.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Worthy Memorials" is the sermon subject for today. Let us each contemplate for awhile what this means personally. What memorial do you consider acceptable for your own life? A statue? A headstone? Hardly. But a good name? That's important. Perhaps no memorial as such at all—just the satisfaction when life is done that you have tried to live lovingly, unselfishly, and most of all, for the Glory of God, not yourself.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Today is Flag Day. We honor the Flag of our Country; but we do not worship it. A parallel in our Church Life is the Virgin Mary. We honor her, but only God is to be worshipped. The Flag is a symbol and a glorious one. Its history gathers up in its folds all the beauty and blessing of our nearly 200 years as a Nation. No country, as no person, is free of errors. Yet in the annals of mankind, no people have ever had more to be thankful for, than the citizens of America. Fly the Flag proudly and humbly. For to whom much has been given, shall much be required.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A GREAT ROCK

Lord Jesus, Who art as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land, grant unto me such a consciousness of Thy healing nearness as may give me perfect confidence in Thee. In all pain and weariness and anxiety, help me to yield myself to Thy never-failing care so that knowing myself upheld by Thy power and love, I may permit Thee to give me Thyself—and health and strength and peace. Fill me with the joy of Thy companionship and make me radiant with the light of Thine abiding Presence. I ask it in Thy Sacred Name, Jesus Christ of Nazareth. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"The love that interprets life, the Cross, the empty tomb, the tiny early church—never was there a body of people so joyously possessed, so dedicated to a great idea. Joy! The word occurs again and again, a new note on earth. For the first time man was glad about God."

(Joseph Fort Newton)

There it is—a tremendous thought to last us a life-time. Jesus Christ reveals the true nature of God. To be glad about God gives us the reason for living and removes the fear of dying.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"It takes a heap of living to make a house a home." So it does. And it takes a heap of loving to make a Christian different from anybody else. The early Christians out-lived, out-laughed, and out-loved the pagans around them. There is need to do the same today.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Our Human Best for God's high service is a motive worthy of our deepest spirituality. May we realize that the tragedy of life is not poverty, pain nor hardship, but it is in not giving our best to the Lord and seeking the highest objectives; only by being obedient to life's crowning purposes can life be abidingly happy and useful.

A PRAYER OF TEILHARD

O Lord, since I have neither bread, nor wine, nor altar, I your priest, on the altar of the whole earth, offer you the toil and sorrow of the world. . . . Receive me, O Lord, a victim which creation, drawn by your power, offers up to you in today's new dawn. Bread, our toil, is in itself, I know, no more than a vast dismemberment. Wine, too, our sorrow, is alas, no more than a draught that dissolves; but in the heart of this formless mass of earth, you have planted an irresistible and sanctifying urge which makes each one of us, from the godless man to the man of faith, cry out, "Lord, make us to be one."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"The real task of Christians is not to do something for the Church—as if the Church were an aged aunt in need of charitable contributions from her nieces and nephews. The real task of Christians is to be the Church—as if the Church were once again what once it was, working disciples of Jesus Christ."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Prayer creates a mystical mood—a strange, calm atmosphere blessing the inner life. This mood rewards itself and bestows its own benediction. There is no virtue in prayer unless it is accompanied by internal peace. It is this peace which is the proof of the covenant between heaven and earth. The peace that comes from faith is the perfect prayer because it is the complete tribute. We have accepted the divine will and the divine way, and from this perfect acceptance we have experienced the perfect consolation. Even though the words be faulty or we find it impossible to express the love and beauty that we feel, our love is the silent tribute of our intention.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Divine Healing

Our God is a Healing God. Consider how He has made us. We are equipped to fight diseases, to heal broken bones, to turn food into all things necessary for the body. Add to this the Power of God's Indwelling Presence and the circle of armor is complete. Doctors, nurses, hospitals want you to get well—and assist you. They, too, are working with God for your healing and good health. "ALL things work together for good to them that love God." "Faith is the antiseptic of the soul."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

This poem was used by the Rector on All Saints' Day:

THESE ARE THE GIFTS I ASK

Henry Van Dyke

These are the gifts I ask
Of thee, Spirit serene;
Strength for the daily task,
Courage to face the road,
Good cheer to help me bear the traveller's load,
And for the hours of rest that come between,
An inward joy in all things heard and seen.
These are the sins I fain
Would have thee take away:
Malice, and cold disdain,
Hot anger, sullen hate,
Scorn of the lowly, envy of the great,
And discontent that casts a shadow gray
On all the brightness of a common day.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

(Closing words of Dr. Newton's "The One Great Church")

WHAT TO DO WITH LIFE TODAY

"The world is full of great causes and aching needs that cry out for help. We are here to make a living, yes, to pull our weights in the boat. But we are also here to make a life and we can do that only by giving it away. Such is the call of our highest devotion. Our country, our home, science, the Church—one or more of a thousand things, we can dedicate our lives to and make them memorable.

What to do with life today? Hope much, fear not at all. Do your best, be your best, seek and find the best in others. If you have trouble, bear it. If you meet danger, dare it. If you find happiness, share it. Trust the great God in whose hands we stand, and may God bless us, every one."

—Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
